

Well-designed new products from Materia.

Materia continues to focus on well-designed furniture and accessories for all types of public meeting places. This year's new products are no exception. It is an exciting line of products and they are all also included in our Colours by Materia (CbM*) concept. As always, the user is in focus, as well as the work with sustainability in the manufacturing processes, for example, using FSC®-certified wood. This year's new products, to mention some of them, are a bench system, a beam sofa and a sofa out of the ordinary. Materia, where design meets innovation.

AMBIENT beam sofa.

Design: Fredrik Mattson

The Ambient beam sofa focuses on design and comfort. While sturdy, the design is neat, minimalistic and elegant. The seat units can easily be replaced individually, if necessary. Ambient has many options, such as different beam lengths, several armrests, screens with or without magazine holders and tables that provide a pleasant extra surface. The solid wood table tops, like the wooden base, are FSC® labelled. Power sockets in the table top and fittings for floor mounting are available as accessories. Frame in Colours by Materia (CbM*) powder coating. Ambient beam sofa is suitable for airports, hospitals and schools.

PICNIC stool/bench/table/metal box.

Design: Marie Oscarsson

The Picnic furniture series in solid white pigmented ash with metal fixings in Colours by Materia (CbM*) powder coating, gives a robust and playful impression. Picnic is particularly suitable for the school's lunch restaurant or as a meeting place in the office. The table has a straight side and a rounded side, making it easy to furnish with the straight side against a wall and the rounded side out into the room. The bench seat follows the same shape and has an optional grey felt pad for increased sitting comfort. The pad is easily attached to the underside of the bench using velcro. With a stool or two in the same finish, the table's short ends can be used for additional seating. For the Picnic series there is also a designed metal box with four electrical or USB sockets connected with a black and white textile cable. The box also comes empty for potted plants, cutlery, spices, note pads and pens.

RO easy chair/sofa.

Design: Mattias Stenberg

The Ro easy chair/sofa invites from afar and gives a feeling of immersion when you sit down. Comfort and a long-term approach are at the heart of this design. The seat's comfort comes from Dymetrol®, an elastic fabric with a springy effect. The back and armrests cushions, held in place by a mesh fabric, are soft and full. The mesh fabric is available in three different colours and the frame in Colours by Materia (CbM*) powder coating. Fastening the removable fabric and leather upholstery with concealed velcro is a practical feature. Ro is suitable for all meeting places that need comfortable and durable seating.

TODAY bench.

Design: Mia Cullin

The Today bench is characterised by being flexible and easy to position. The many connection options, allow you to extend the design indefinitely for places like schools, shopping malls and offices. The system consists of benches in different lengths, and a corner section with seating space, side table or planting pot. The units can be connected lengthwise as well as angled in any direction. The benches can also stand independently. The leg design gives an elegant impression in chrome or Colours by Materia (CbM*) powder coating finish. The parts can easily be replaced if necessary and the solid wood table top can be sanded down and relacquered. Under-seat electrical sockets/USB are available as accessories.

Design: Axel Bjurström

Uni Large is a versatile conference table tailored to modern meeting places. It is subtly designed to work in several types of environments. The richness in design of the conference table is exemplified by the foot's die-cast details and the chamfered edge of the table top. Taken together with its scaled-down structure, the table almost seems to float. The relatively low foot means that chairs can be placed anywhere around the table. Also chairs with high armrests can usually be pushed completely under the table top. The table is available in a number of formats and finishes and is easy to customise. Frame in Colours by Materia (CbM*) powder coating. A cable lid and electrical/USB sockets are available as options. The fabric covered electrical cable is led from the cable trench down through the pillar. In the case of two electrical sockets, the cables are gathered together and routed down with only one cable in the pillar, giving a tidy impression.
